The Social History of Alcohol and Drugs:
An Interdisciplinary Journal
The Journal of the Alcohol and Drugs History Society
ISSN 0887-2783

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
Dan Malleck, Brock University, St. Catharines, Canada. dmalleck@brocku.ca.

REVIEWS EDITOR
James Nicholls, Bath Spa University, Bath, England. j.nicholls@bathspa.ac.uk.

Editorial Board listed on inside back cover.

Current ADHS Executive listed after Table of Contents.

The Social History of Alcohol and Drugs: An Interdisciplinary Journal (SHAD) is a peer-reviewed academic journal dedicated to publishing high-quality original academic research, reflection essays and reviews in the field of alcohol and drug history, broadly construed. SHAD is published under the auspices of the Alcohol and Drugs History Society (ADHS) twice annually (normally), in the Winter (Issue 1) and in the Summer (Issue 2) of each calendar year.

To submit a paper for consideration, authors should submit three copies of a printed manuscript by regular mail or one digital version in MS Word or WordPerfect format to the Editor-in-Chief. Digital submissions are preferred. Manuscripts should be no longer than 8000 words before references. Submissions must be double spaced, including indented quotations, with minimum one-inch margins on all four sides. Font size must be 12 point Times New Roman. Any figures, tables or other additional material must be on separate pages, identified clearly (Figure 1, Table 1, etc.). If sent electronically, these items may be part of the same file, or sent separately, but clearly identified. All electronic submissions should use the following naming format: "Author-Brief Title.doc" (the file type may change depending on the word processor used: "doc" or "wpd"). For example, a paper by W. T. F. Smith called "It all makes sense now: LSD use among politicians" may arrive as "Smith--LSD politicians." Citation styles: As a multidisciplinary journal, the SHAD accepts papers using either endnote or in-text reference styles. References must be formatted according to the Chicago Manual of Style, Sixteenth Edition, which includes information for both citation styles. For more complex referencing, the author is advised to use a consistent referencing style. Upon acceptance, the article will be subjected to a rigorous copy edit, at which time referencing anomalies will be addressed. More information about submission policies may be found at the ADHS website, listed below.

Subscriptions to SHAD are included with membership to the ADHS. Annual membership fees are as follows: USD$30.00 for individuals living in North America (Canada and United States); USD$35.00 for individuals living outside of North America; USD$50 for institutions anywhere in the world. Subscription information is available at the website, and may be paid either through PayPal on-line or by a cheque drawn on a US or Canadian bank, made out to The Alcohol and Drugs History Society and sent to the editor-in-chief. For payment alternatives, please contact us.

ADHS website: http://alcoholanddrughistorysociety.com

The Social History of Alcohol and Drugs
An Interdisciplinary Journal
Volume 25, Numbers 1-2 (2011)

CONTENTS

Editor’s Note – 5

Guest Editors’ Introduction
Histories and Geographies of Intoxicants and Intoxication: An Introduction
ANGELA MC SHANE AND JAMES KNEALE – 6

Eras

On the Origin and Progress of Temperance: Basil Montagu’s
Some Enquiries into the Effects of Fermented Liquors (1814),
in Context
JAMES NICHOLLS – 15

Everything in its Right Place? Drinking Places and Social Spaces in Mexico City, c. 1780-1900
DEBORAH TONER – 26

Addictive Architecture: The Crystal Palace, Gin Palaces and Women’s Desire
JULIA SKELLY – 49

“A Soldier Intoxicated is Far Worse than No Soldier at All”:
Intoxication and the American Civil War
SCOTT C. MARTIN – 66
Abstinent Nation, Addicted Empire: Opium and Japan in the Meiji Period
Miriam Kingsberg – 88

Liquor Licences and Spirit Boycotts: The Struggle to Control Liquor in Ibadan and Abeokuta, Southern Nigeria, 1908-9
Simon Heap – 107

The Meaning of Addiction in the Rubbing Alcohol Habit: The Rise and Fall of The Rubby
Dan Malleck – 130

Local and National Policy Making for Alcohol: Nottingham, UK, 1950-2007
Jane McGregor and Virginia Berridge – 148

Reviews
Reviewed by Martin Stack – 165

Reviewed by Greg Marquis – 167

Reviewed by James Sumner – 169

Reviewed by Dan Malleck – 171

Paul J. Vanderwood. Satan’s Playground: Mobsters and Movie Stars at America’s Greatest Gaming Resort.
Reviewed by Mark C. Smith – 173

Toby Seddon. A History of Drugs: Drugs and Freedom in the Liberal Age.
Reviewed by Virginia Berridge – 175

Reviewed by James H. Mills – 177

Penny Dade. Drink Talking: 100 Years of Alcohol Advertising.
Reviewed by Pamela E. Pennock – 178

Lawrence Wenner and Steven Jackson, eds. Sport, Beer and Gender: Promotional Culture and Contemporary Social Life.
Reviewed by Andy Ruddock – 180

Mark Jayne, Gill Valentine, Sarah L. Holloway. Alcohol, Drinking, Drunkenness: (Dis)Orderly Spaces.
Reviewed by Alasdair J. M. Forsyth – 182

Reviewed by Chad Ludington – 184

Marion Demossier. Wine Drinking Culture in France: A National Myth or a Modern Passion?
Reviewed by Noelle Plack – 186

Reviewed by Harold Tarrant – 187